Additional Backup Information

Workforce Solutions - Capital Area Workforce Board (WFS), as local agent for the Texas Workforce Commission, distributes state and federal child care funding for low-income working families in Austin/Travis County. The federal government allows states to use both state and local government funds as match to increase utilization of the federal Health and Human Services Department's Child Care and Development Fund dollars. The State does not match all available federal child care funding, so local government funds can be used to increase the available match. The Child Care Local Match Contribution Agreement will provide the local match for federal funds anticipated to be at a 31.34% local to 68.66% federal matching ratio, which results in about $2.19 in federal match for each City dollar. This agreement will leverage an estimated $726,982 in federal child care funds. The resulting total estimated child care funding will be $1,058,814 for City of Austin client families.

The agreement is a continuation of the City's social services child care program for low-income families in partnership with Travis County and Workforce Solutions that began in FY 2005. The City payment will be transferred to WFS in order for the funds to be matched with federal funds. The federal matching funds and the City funds go directly into the State's automated child care payment system at the Texas Workforce Commission solely for WFS's use as directed by the City. The amount of available matching funds is contingent on the federal Child Care and Development Fund budget and the Texas Workforce Commission's allocation to Austin/Travis County through WFS.
